50/50 -$74 - Josh's Dad

XBall - $149 - Scott Emmel

As the pot for strike ball grows, what can we say except MORE Cowbell! This week, Scott Emmel got his first shot at the money. Watching him throw his first four frames of the second game, there was no denying that he was zeroed in. However with all noise going on in the background, and a little tug, and Scott ended up missing. Now he came right back and struck in the 6th but that was too little too late. The pot just keeps growing.

This is normally something we address early in the season, but after some complaints and comments after last week, it seems like we needed to remind people about proper bowling courtesy. If someone is waiting their turn to bowl, or picking up their ball from the rack, don't step past them to bowl without checking with them to see if you can ahead of them. Kind of like the traffic laws, the bowler on the right goes first. Don't stand on the approach waiting for your ball to back, step off the wood onto the tile. If you are going to toss your towel or some other article, toss it at your table, not across the lanes. After you throw the ball walk back your own lane and give the bowlers next to you some space. Please watch your language, you never know when there will be small kids around or someone may take offense to something they thought they heard. We are just making sure everyone has their fair shot at throwing the ball, but also that everyone is able to enjoy themselves.
