WEEKLY BABBLING

We are now down to the final two weeks of our season, and they are both position rounds. The league will be paid off at the completion of our final week, April 30th. You will notice that only four teams will be responsible for making payments this week. All payments must be made with CASH. Paying off in full saves me the time of having to remove what is owed to the league from anyone's team pay envelope that will be distributed shortly after the completion of bowling on the final week. Any questions or problems, make it a point to see me before, during, or immediately after bowling tonight to discuss the issue. Thank you.

Whatever has stretched their lead to 3 1/2 points over No More Dickster. There are many mathematical combinations for the top six teams to have somewhat of a chance to win this half. The obvious and easiest thing that could happen this week would be Whatever winning 7 points and the four teams involved in the 3rd vs. 4th and 5th vs. 6th place matches all split the points. If this were to occur, Whatever would clinch the half. If anything else other than this happens, at least three to up to all six teams could shuffle around a bit and stay alive until the final week. Depending on the results next week, I might also outline the scenario or scenarios that could take place if we were to have a tie for first place at the end of the half.

Discuss your team's intention, and please start letting me know of your team's intention for bowling next year starting this week. The decision being made at this time is certainly not binding in any way, shape, or form should you change your mind over the summer. Everyone seems to have gotten along in the league; and even if some teams are in need to be shuffled around for next season, I believe the foundation of the league is in place to handle those minor changes. With only an exception or two, all the teams have been very competitive throughout the season. I just want to start to get a feel for how many teams will be coming back intact, or if a player or two is needed to fill out a team losing a player or two. I see no reason why we will not start next season with at least as many teams as we are finishing this season with. I have heard from a few non-league members that they are considering joining the league next season; and given the lane availability, we can certainly add teams. If you know of any teams or even individuals who might be interested in joining, please pass along their contact information or give my contact information to them so we can do some recruiting.

As per league rule #17 - Substitutes, any substitute must have bowled at least nine games in the league prior to the final two position rounds to be eligible to bowl these final two weeks. Only the nine bowlers eligible are now listed on the substitute list.
